Acronyms

CRC: Correction and Rehabilitation Center

CRCD: Department of Correction and Rehabilitation Centers

Definitions

International standards: Standards and requirements that have been developed through the United Nations bodies, or the organizations emanating from them that specialize in the field of rule of law and justice, in addition to other relevant international institutions, to unify standards related to the detention of persons in a manner that guarantees their minimum rights according to the text of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR), and other relevant texts.

Inmate: Any person who has been convicted of a crime by a court of law of any degree of jurisdiction in Palestine, and was deprived of his freedom against his will, based on a court ruling.

Optimal living space: It is the space that assigns the detainees adequate accommodation conditions in order to provide living conditions that preserve their dignity, and do not increase their suffering and negatively affect their health.

Prison living space: It is the inmates' accommodation space in their rooms, with the exception of service areas such as the kitchen, the recreation space time, the library, and other service areas.

Occupancy rates for accommodation (prisoner density):

Accommodation occupancy rate = number of prisoners at a specific date/number of prisoners specified by the capacity * 100.

When the outcome is higher than 100 (100 prisoners per 100 square meter), we will have overcrowding in the filling of accommodations. When the number is less than 100, there is a shortage in the filling of accommodations.

Introduction

Monitoring places of correction and rehabilitation centers (CRC) is one of the important roles that ICHR plays in both the West Bank and the Gaza Strip. By fulfilling this role, ICHR seeks to improve the conditions of detention of the CRCs. ICHR exercises this role through periodic visits that are predetermined with the Police, in addition to exceptional visits in emergency situations, where the Police is addressed and the visit takes place on the next day in most cases. Despite the importance of this kind of visits, ICHR seeks to obtain or implement sudden visits, which take place without informing the Police until it reaches the door of the detention center.

For the purpose of supervision, ICHR has adopted two forms that the field researcher fills out during the visit. One of the two forms is filled out every month or in each visit to the correction and rehabilitation center, and the second is filled out twice a year. The aim of the second form is to research the development happening to the CRC in terms of facilities, construction and the number of staff. As for the first form that is filled out in each visit, the aim is to research the conditions of the inmates, the services provided to them and the extent of their consistency with human rights principles.

Over the past years, ICHR carried out many visits to CRCs in the West Bank and Gaza Strip, and recorded many observations and problems facing these centers through its direct first-hand knowledge of these problems or by receiving several complaints in addition to monitoring and documentation that enhance the existence of these problems. ICHR carries out its periodic visits to these centers through its field researchers who are present at its various offices in the governorates. In order to activate the role of ICHR's monitoring of CRCs, ICHR began, since 2018, to assess the compatibility of the CRCs in the West Bank and Gaza Strip with international standards for correction and rehabilitation centers. ICHR developed the data collection tool during 2019 to reflect some of the criteria for adapting CRCs to the needs of persons with disabilities, including inmates, staff and visitors, in addition to adding some criteria concerning the compatibility of living conditions at the centers.

Palestinian Correction and Rehabilitation Centers

The Jericho CRC was opened during 2012, becoming the first CRC in Palestine that takes into account international standards in terms of spaces, services, protection, and other issues related to places of detention. Ramallah CRC was renovated after the evacuation of the second floor of the building that was rented originally during the same year 2012. But despite the recent restoration, it was still observed that the aforementioned center (Ramallah CRC) lacked sufficient space which resulted in overcrowding due to the large number of inmates and the small area of the center.

In 2013, the Nablus CRC was established and handed over to the Ministry of Interior.

In 2015, work has begun on the establishment of Jenin CRC to cover the northern West Bank. During the same year, the Bethlehem CRC was restored and repaired. Despite that restoration, the Bethlehem CRC continued to suffer from many problems that makes it not suited to be a place for temporary detaining people let alone holding them under arrest for long periods..

During 2017, a number of developments were made in the field of CRCs, which are summarized as follows. The situation remained as is during 2018 without any change¹:

- The building of a CRC in the Jenin governorate was completed from a construction point of view. Work is underway to complete the construction of and furnish warehouses for the CRC, increase the electricity capacity, and connect the CRC to a main water line.
- The construction of the Nablus CRC has been completed. It is awaiting the necessary furnishing.
- Designs for building plans for a CRC in the Hebron governorate were approved and work is underway to start the construction process.
- A plot of land has been allocated in the Qalqilya governorate to build a new CRC and work is underway to complete the procedures.
- Plans for building the Correction and Rehabilitation Centers Department Training Institute, with the aim of developing and building the capacities of the staff of the Correction and Rehabilitation Centers Department (CRCD), have been completed.
- 200 new personnel have been recruited to boost the number of staff at the CRCs and operate the new centers. Work is underway to train and build the capacities of the new staff.

- The manual of CRCD Operating Procedures has been updated in accordance with the Nelson Mandela Rules of 2015.
- 8 new trainers were appointed to increase the number of trainers of the CRCD to 19 trainers.

As for the updates during 2018, things remained the same as in 2017. The Nablus CRC remained without furnishing and the Jenin CRC remained without operation.

It should be noted that women's detention centers and juvenile detention centers are not available in all seven CRCs spread across the West Bank.

Assessment Objective

After years of visiting places of detention in Palestine, ICHR aimed at conducting an assessment of the compatibility of CRCs in the West Bank and Gaza Strip with international standards for places of detention, with the objective of investigating the condition of the status of CRCs in Palestine in terms of their observance of minimum international standards for the rights of detained persons. This assessment contributes to identifying national priorities to improve the human rights situation in Palestinian prisons. The assessment also aims to:

First: Determination of the national priorities for the improvement of the human rights situation in the Palestinian CRCs for persons deprived of freedom, and highlighting areas that require immediate attention and support from decision-makers. Second: Collection of preliminary data on the state of CRCs from a policy and procedural point of view and identification of gaps in them for the purpose of development.

Third: Collection of preliminary data on the status of CRCs in terms of buildings, equipment and infrastructure to identify gaps in them for the purpose of development.

Fourth: Collection of preliminary data on the state of CRCs for juveniles and women.

Assessment Methodology

ICHR has designed an assessment tool for correction and rehabilitation centers through the use of relevant international references². The tool is used, not only for setting the baseline, but also for the purposes of periodic assessment and follow-up of the conditions of prisons and inmates afterwards to ensure that they are receiving the appropriate treatment and are in a suitable living environment. ICHR decided to conduct the assessment in two phases, provided that the first phase includes the CRCs of the West Bank and Gaza Strip.

The assessment also includes a methodology for the collection of the basic information about the administrative policies of the CRC and the operational and administrative procedures. It also includes an assessment of the infrastructure, service and living facilities in CRCs with a special assessment of the situation of women and minors in these facilities, in addition to assessing compliance with the main international rules and standards, especially the Standard Minimum Rules for the Treatment of Inmates, “Mandela Rules”, and highlighting areas that require attention and immediate support from decision makers.

The assessment form included fixed standards for determining the grade which it deserves for an item of the assessment tool, ranging between 1 and 5, where 1 represents total compliance with the standard and 5 represents absolute non-compliance.

2 The United Nations Declaration of Human Rights (1948); the United Nations Declaration on the Protection of All Persons from Being Subjected to Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (1975); the United Nations Safeguards Guaranteeing Protection of the Rights of Those Facing the Death Penalty (1966); Code of Conduct for Law Enforcement Officials (1979); Standard Minimum Rules for the Administration of Juvenile Justice (1985); the Body of Principles Relating to the Protection of All Persons Subjected to Any Form of Detention or Imprisonment (1988); Basic Principles for the Treatment of Prisoners (1990); the United Nations Guidelines for the Prevention of Juvenile Delinquency (1990); Basic Principles on the Use of Force and Firearms by Law Enforcement Officials (1990); United Nations Rules for the Protection of Juveniles Deprived of their Liberty (1990); International Code of Conduct for Public Officials (1996); the United Nations Guidelines for Action on Children in the Criminal Justice System (1997); United Nations Principles on the Effective Investigation and Documentation of Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (2000); the United Nations Rules for the Treatment of Women Prisoners and Non-Protest Measures for Women Offenders (2010); and the United Nations Minimum Rules for the Treatment of Prisoners (1957-1977).

Assessment Tool

The assessment tool is divided into four main parts that take into account the rights of staff, inmates, and visitors with disabilities. There is under each part a group of sub-parts, each of which has a designated set of questions as follows:

First Section: General Policies of the CRC

1. CRC's administration
2. CRC's staff
3. Health care guarantees for inmates
4. Torture and the use of force
5. Procedures for receiving detainees
6. Conditions of detention
7. Visitors

Second section: Equipment and Infrastructure of the CRC

1. Infrastructure of the inmates' accommodation rooms and facilities
2. Service facilities

Third Section: Juvenile Detention Centers

It includes fourteen questions for assessing the conditions of the most recent detention centers.

Fourth Section: Women's Detention Centers

Under it there are seventeen questions to assess conditions in women's detention centers.

Assessment Procedures

The basic assessment tool was designed in 2018 and developed in 2019 to include the measurement of the adequacy of detention centers to the conditions of persons with disabilities, including inmates, staff and visitors, in addition to adding items related to the compatibility of living conditions. An internal discussion on the tool was made at ICHR. In addition, the tool was presented at the West Bank's CRCDC for review and modification.

A team of assessors was formed that includes representatives of ICHR and at least one representative of the CRC administration being evaluated in addition to at least one representative of the General Administration of Prisons in coordination with the CRCDC in the West Bank. During the assessment visit, the director of the CRC accompanied the assessment team during its field tour inside the CRC and also participated in the dialogue on the assessment standards. A list of the names of the assessment participants can be found in Annex 1.

The visits to the CRCs were coordinated in cooperation with the CRCDC, which took place according to the scheduled dates. The criteria for the visit were also agreed upon, which include:

- 1- Viewing the written policies and directives available at the CRC.
- 2- Viewing the following forms: inmate records, inmate complaints, list of meals provided during the visit week, periodic report by the CRC's doctor, and water inspection. Also, grades that ranged from 1 to 3 where 1 is full compliance, and 3 is non-compliance were assigned (Annex 2).
- 3- Viewing of the work schedule of doctors and health officials working at the CRC.
- 4- Visiting all the facilities of the CRC, which include accommodation facilities and all service facilities such as: the recreation space, library, laundry, kitchen and storage facilities, doctor's room, dentist's room, classrooms and vocational training rooms.

ICHR has clearly defined the scope of the standard, as shown below, in order to unify the concepts of the scope of the standard and its ability to properly measure. The assessment was done for all the criteria included on a scale of 1-5 points, where 1 represents total compliance with the standard, while 5 represents absolute non-compliance (Annex 3).

Grade	Scope	Explanation
1	1	Full compliance with international standards
2	1.1 - 2	Complies well (good compliance) with international standards
3	2.1 - 3	Compliance to a certain degree with international standards
4	3.1 - 4	Weak compliance with international standards
5	4.1 - 5	Absolute non-compliance with international standards

The assessment committee discussed all items during the visit and monitored the appropriate initial grade for each of them and a representative from ICHR made sure all records, forms and files previously identified existed. A grade was assigned for the availability of the record or form or lack thereof.

After completing the field visits, the committee held a series of meetings to discuss the initial grades and compare them with observations during the field visits before their final approval. Also, the assessment report developed by ICHR was also discussed and approved for publication.

Assessment of West Bank CRCs

Total Grade for West Bank CRCs

The overall total of all the compatibility standards of the West Bank CRCs was 2.5, which reflects a compliance to some degree with international standards for the CRCs in the West Bank. The compatibility rates for the seven CRCs spread across the West Bank were as follows:

Scope standard	Beth-lehem CRC	Hebron CRC	Jericho CRC	Ramallah CRC	Tulkarem CRC	Jenin CRC	Nablus CRC	Standard Total
Overall total for the CRC's general policies	1.7	1.7	1.3	1.7	1.7	1.7	1.7	1.6
Overall total for the CRC's equipment and infrastructure	4.0	3.4	2.3	3.4	3.3	3.4	3.7	3.3
Overall total for the juvenile detention centers	0	0	0	0	0	1.9	2.9	2.4
Overall total for the women's detention centers	2.5	2.5	2.1	2.4	0	2.4	0	3.0
Overall total for all the compatibility standards of the West Bank CRCs	2.7	2.5	1.9	2.5	2.5	2.4	2.8	2.5

They were distributed as follows:

- The compatibility rate of the CRCs with the CRC's administration scope provisions was 1.6 which reflects good compliance with international standards for the CRC administration.
- The compatibility rate of the CRCs with the CRC staff scope provisions was 1.8, which reflects good compliance with international standards for the characteristics of CRC staff.
- The rate of compliance of the CRCs with the scope provisions of the guarantees of the health care offered to inmates was 2.2, which reflects compliance to some degree with international standards for guarantees of health care for inmates at CRCs.
- The compatibility rate of the CRCs with the CRC torture and use of force scope provisions was 1, which represents full compliance with the scope of torture and the use of force in CRCs.
- The compatibility rate of the CRCs with the scope provisions of the procedures for receiving detainees/inmates in prisons was 2.2, which reflects compliance to some degree with international standards with regard to procedures for receiving detainees/inmates.
- The compatibility rate of the CRCs with the scope provisions of the detention conditions in prisons was 1.7, which reflects good compliance with international standards with regard to conditions of detention.
- The compatibility rate of the CRCs with the scope provisions of the prison visitors was 1, which reflects full compliance with international standards regarding visitor reception.
- The total compatibility rate of West Bank CRCs in relation to the total standard of CRC equipment and infrastructure was 3.3, reflecting weak compliance with international standards for West Bank CRC equipment and infrastructure. They were distributed as follows:
- The compatibility rate of the CRCs with the infrastructure and the inmate accommodation facilities' provisions at the West Bank CRCs was 3.3, reflecting weak compliance with international standards for inmate infrastructure and facilities.

- The compatibility rate of West Bank CRC's service facilities was 3.3, reflecting weak compliance with international standards for service facilities.

The total compatibility rate of West Bank CRCs in relation to the total standard of juvenile detention centers was 2.4, which reflects compliance to some degree with international standards for the standards of juvenile detention in West Bank CRCs. Noting that juveniles are found only at two CRCs: the Jenin and Nablus CRCs.

The total compatibility rate of the West Bank CRCs in relation to the total standard for women's detention centers was 3, reflecting weak compliance with international standards for the standards of detention for women at West Bank CRCs. Noting that women are found at five CRCs: Jericho, Bethlehem, Ramallah and Jenin CRCs.

Jericho CRC

Item		Remarks
CRC's location	Muqataa Area in Jericho Governorate (within security quarter)	Surrounded by a high fence and closed with electronic gates
Total area	9,000 sq. meters	Consists of two floors
Living space	2,000 sq. meters
CRC capacity	165 inmates	Number of inmates at visit time: 163 inmates
Rates of accommodation area occupancy (inmate density)	98.8%
Building's nature	Newly constructed. Specifically built as a CRC.	Opened for operation in 2012
Service units found at the CRC	Yards, playgrounds, and recreational facilities, a gym, 3 external yards (for detainees, convicts, women), a library, classrooms, a computer room, a dental clinic, a general medicine clinic, a medical laboratory, vocational training: mosaic workshop, laboratory, handicrafts, electrical installations workshop (Single and 3 phase), sewing workshop. The CRC provides inmates with various entertainment and educational services.
Inmate rights	Inside the CRC there are informational posters that display the inmate rights and duties according to the texts of the law
Suitability of the CRC for receiving people with disabilities, including inmates, visitors and staff.	The CRC is unsuitable for receiving people with disabilities, including inmates, visitors and staff.

The assessment team visited the CRC on July 29, 2019. After discussing the assessment tool and monitoring the initial grades for each scope in it, the records described in the assessment methodology were viewed. Then, the assessment team made a field visit to all the CRC's facilities to determine the actual situation of the facilities before the final assessment grade was approved.

The overall total compatibility rate with international standards of the Jericho CRC was 1.9, reflecting good compliance with international standards for conditions of detention.

The total compatibility rate of the Jericho CRC in relation to the total administration standard for the CRC was 1.3, which reflects good compliance with international standards for the policies in place at the Jericho CRC. They were distributed as follows:

- The CRC's compatibility rate for the scope provisions of prison administration was 1.5, which reflects good compliance with international standards for the administration of the CRC.
- The CRC's compatibility rate with the scope provisions of the prison staff was 1.8, which reflects good compliance with international standards for the characteristics of the CRC staff.
- The CRC's compliance rate with the scope provisions of health care guarantees provided to inmates in prison was 1.8, which reflects good compliance with international standards for health care guarantees for inmates at the CRC.
- The CRC's compliance rate with the scope provisions of torture and the use of force in prison was 1.0, which represents full compliance with the scope of torture and the use of force in the CRC.
- The CRC's compliance rate with the scope of procedures for receiving detainees/inmates in prison was 1.2, which reflects good compliance with international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate with the scope of detention conditions in prison was 1.1, which reflects good compliance with international standards.- The CRC's compatibility rate with the scope of prison visitors was 1.0, which reflects full compliance with international standards.

The overall compatibility rate of the Jericho CRC in relation to the total equipment and infrastructure standard of the CRC was 2.3, which reflects compliance to some degree with international standards for equipment and infrastructure of the Jericho CRC. They were distributed as follows:

- The CRC's compatibility rate for the infrastructure and inmate accommodation facilities provisions in the prison was 2.0, reflecting good compliance with international standards. The CRC's compatibility rate for service facilities in the prison was 2.6, which reflects compliance to a certain degree with international standards.

The overall compatibility rate of the Jericho CRC in relation to the total standard for women's detention CRCs was 2.1, reflecting compliance to some degree with international standards.

It should be noted that no juvenile inmates were present at the CRC at the time of the assessment.

Remarks on Assessment Results

- Administration of the CRC: The Jericho CRC complies very well with international standards for prison administration in terms of having documented policies, directives and instructions about the CRC's administration. Although the ratio of staff to inmates is 47.2%, the use of electronic monitoring methods has contributed to reducing the need for human personnel and made it possible to consider the CRC to be compatible with international standards in this regard. Perhaps the only deficiency in the compatibility of the administration of the Jericho CRC, is in the absence of a clear and documented system for managing the vocational rehabilitation facilities available at the CRC, in addition to the fact that the CRC is not qualified for the receipt and presence of persons with disabilities, including staff, inmates and visitors. In addition, there is no policy that limits the number of working hours for inmates, because working in all CRCs is a privilege and is not binding.
- CRC staff: There is no system or specific standards for incentives and penalties that govern the CRC staff, in addition to the absence of any additional financial compensation compared with the rest of the police members or an allowance for the nature of work. In addition, there are no clear or written criteria for appointing staff in CRCs, and no employees with disabilities have been appointed according to the known percentages.

- Healthcare guarantees for inmates: The Jericho CRC ensures a good degree of healthcare guarantees for inmates, especially given the availability of a permanent general physician at the CRC who fully supervises inmates round the clock. The dentist, however, is only available 3 days a week, and a psychiatrist is available for a period of one day only every two weeks. There is no clear policy on appointing a qualified medical specialist, since the medical specialist is appointed by the Military Medical Services, and neither the CRCD nor the police play a part in that. Also, there is no room for medical isolation inside the CRC.

Although the medical specialist submits periodic reports to the prison administration about the quantity, quality and preparation of food, the extent to which the health and hygiene rules are followed in the CRC and its facilities, the state of sanitation facilities, heating, lighting and ventilation in the CRC, and the quality and cleanliness of the inmates' clothes and their bed furnishings, he/she does not follow the extent of compliance with the rules related to physical and sports education. Furthermore, The CRC does not have health care guarantees for persons with disabilities.

- Torture and the use of force: The Jericho CRC complies in an excellent manner with international standards for preventing the use of force against inmates and respecting their rights.
- Procedures for receiving detainees/inmates: The Jericho CRC complies very well with international standards for procedures for receiving inmates and enabling them to be accommodated in a smooth manner. Inmates with disabilities are also granted a reasonable amount of facilities during their reception, commensurate with the nature of the disability, although there is no policy for that.
- Conditions of detention: The Jericho CRC provides inmates with very good conditions of detention in terms of meals, hours of exposure to the sun, movement, availability of clean water that meets the needs of inmates, and the distribution of inmates based on their ability to coexist. The CRC's administration respects the freedom to practice religious rituals and allows inmates to communicate with their families and friends on a regular basis. Also, inmates receive news on a regular basis through daily newspapers and television stations. Sanitation facilities are also provided with cleaning materials that inmates can clean by themselves. The CRC staff also monitors inmates (only) in terms of washing and changing their clothes and underwear to ensure their physical cleanliness and this is not imposed on them. Work is not compulsory at the CRC, but it is a privilege granted to some categories of inmates based on compliance with the required rules of behavior and proper conduct inside the CRC.

- Visitors: The Jericho CRC complies in an excellent manner with international standards for procedures for visits by families and friends of inmates periodically on a pre-agreed basis.
- Infrastructure of inmates' rooms and accommodation facilities: The Jericho CRC complies well with international standards for the infrastructure and facilities for inmates' accommodation in terms of availability of sufficient artificial and natural lighting, windows and sanitation facilities equipped with adequate quantities of water that are maintained periodically and if and when needed. The CRC also has yards that are suitable for the inmates' exposure to the sun. Also, the occupancy rates of accommodations places are 98.8%. In spite of this, the number of toilets is considered insufficient for inmates (one for every 8 inmates) and they are not suitable for the needs of persons with disabilities. The infrastructure is also incompatible for accommodating inmates with disabilities.
- Service facilities: The Jericho CRC complies fairly well with international standards regarding the nature of the quality of service facilities located in it. The CRC has three vocational rehabilitation facilities (mosaic workshop, bakery, handicraft workshop), but they are not operational. There is also a library that contains 1,154 books, but there are no books specifically for people with disabilities and it is not compatible with the needs of people with disabilities. The infrastructure for service facilities is completely not equipped to meet the needs of persons with disabilities.

The CRC has a clinic equipped with the necessary tools and equipment and a well-equipped kitchen for preparing meals. The windows are wide enough to allow sunlight to enter the service facilities and there is artificial lighting that enables inmates to read and work.

- Women's Detention Center: The Jericho CRC complies to a certain degree with international standards for the detention of women, which was 2.1. Detained women are isolated in separate sections away from men, and the women's section is headed by a female staff member. It is forbidden for women to be inspected by male employees. Infants are allowed to stay with their detained mothers and a nursery dedicated to these children is provided. All sanitary supplies for women are provided periodically. Pregnant women detainees give birth at civilian hospitals. Physical contact between the detained mothers and their children is permitted during the visit. However, the CRC does not provide a female clinic for female inmates that is independent of the general medicine clinic, nor is there a female doctor for this purpose. Despite the presence of a nursery inside the CRC, there are no female staff inside the nursery and female inmates are dedicated for this purpose. In addition, the trainers of vocational training and education programs are often men. There is also a lack of coordination and networking with civil and community institutions for the purpose of rehabilitating women before their release and training them to take care of themselves after their release. Reception and accommodation facilities are not compatible for the requirements of women with disabilities.
- Juvenile detention center: There were no juveniles at the time of assessment.

Hebron (ad-Dhahiriya) CRC

Item		Remarks
CRC's location	ad-Dhahiriya City	Northern Hebron
Total area	3,000 sq. meters	Consists of two floors
Living space	550 sq. meters
CRC capacity	98 inmates	Number of inmates at visit time: 140 inmates
Rates of accommodation area occupancy (inmate density)	142.9%
Building's nature	An old building that was constructed during the British Mandate era	Opened for operation with the advent of the Palestinian Authority between 1994 and 1995.
Service units found at the CRC	A general medicine clinic, a dental clinic, a library, a classroom, vocational training facilities: bakery, shoe workshop, handicrafts, sewing workshop.	Vocational training workshops are unutilized.
Inmate rights	Inside the CRC there are informational posters that display the inmate rights and duties according to the texts of the law
Suitability of the CRC for receiving people with disabilities, including inmates, visitors and staff.	The CRC is unsuitable for receiving people with disabilities, including inmates, visitors and staff.

The assessment team visited the CRC on July 27, 2019. After discussing the assessment tool and monitoring the initial grades for each scope in it, the records described in the assessment methodology were viewed. Then, the assessment team made a field visit to all the CRC's facilities to determine the actual situation of the facilities before the final assessment grade was approved.

The overall total compatibility rate of the Hebron CRC with international standards was 2.5, reflecting compliance to a certain degree with international standards.

- The total compatibility rate of the Hebron CRC in relation to the total policies standard for the CRC was 1.7, which reflects good compliance with international standards for the policies in place at the Hebron CRC. They were distributed as follows:
- The CRC's compatibility rate for the scope provisions of CRC administration was 1.7, which reflects good compliance with international standards.
- The CRC's compatibility rate with the scope provisions of the CRC staff was 1.8, which reflects good compliance with international .
- The CRC's compliance rate with the scope provisions of health care guarantees provided to inmates in CRC was 2.3, which reflects compliance to certain a degree with international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate with the scope provisions of torture and the use of force in CRC was 1.0, which represents full compliance with the scope of torture and the use of force in the CRC.
- The CRC's compliance rate with the scope of procedures for receiving detainees/inmates in CRC was 2.2, which reflects compliance to a certain degree with international standards. The CRC's compliance rate with the scope of detention conditions in CRC was 1.8, which reflects compliance to a certain degree with international standards.
- The CRC's compatibility rate with the scope of CRC visitors was 1.0, which reflects full compliance with international standards. The overall compatibility rate of the Jericho CRC in relation to the total equipment and infrastructure standard of the CRC was 3.4, which reflects weak compliance with international standards for equipment and infrastructure of the Hebron CRC. They were distributed as follows:
- The CRC's compatibility rate for the infrastructure and inmate accommodation facilities provisions in the CRC was 3.6, reflecting weak compliance with international standards. The CRC's compatibility rate for provisions of service facilities in the CRC was 3.2, which reflects weak compliance with international standards. The overall compatibility rate of the Hebron CRC in relation to the total standard for women's detention CRCs was 2.5, reflecting compliance to some degree with international standards.

It should be noted that no juvenile inmates were present at the CRC at the time of the assessment.

Remarks on Assessment Results

- Administration of the CRC: The Hebron CRC complies well with international standards for prison administration in terms of having documented policies, directives and instructions about the CRC's administration. There is a clear deficit in the compatibility of the ratio of staff to inmates, which is 25%, and the situation is exacerbated by the aging of the building and the inability to use technological means for monitoring inside the CRC. There is an absence of a clear and documented system for managing the vocational rehabilitation facilities available at the CRC, in addition to the fact that the CRC is not qualified for the receipt and presence of persons with disabilities, including staff, inmates and visitors. In addition, there is no policy that limits the number of working hours for inmates, because working in all CRCs is a privilege and is not binding.
- CRC staff: There is no system or specific standards for incentives and penalties that govern the CRC staff, in addition to the absence of any additional financial compensation compared with the rest of the police members or an allowance for the nature of work. In addition, there are no clear or written criteria for appointing staff at CRCs and no staff with disabilities have been appointed according to the known percentages.
- Healthcare guarantees for inmates: The Hebron Rehabilitation Center guarantees a limited degree of health care guarantees for inmates, especially in light of the lack of a permanent general physician at the CRC (5 days a week). The nurse is also non-resident and works 5 days a week (8 hours a day). Dental services are also provided two days a week only. The psychiatrist is available for a period of one day only every week. The pharmacy is located inside the general medicine room and the tools necessary to equip the clinics are not available, old or derelict.
- The inmate's medical examination is carried out at the military medical services and before his/her arrival to the CRC. Therefore, the inmate is not examined upon entering the CRC by the CRC itself, according to international norms in this regard.

- There is no clear policy on appointing a qualified medical specialist, since the medical specialist is appointed by the Military Medical Services, and neither the CRCD nor the police have a part to play in that. Also, there is no room for medical isolation inside the CRC.

Although the medical specialist submits periodic reports to the prison administration about the quantity, quality and preparation of food, the extent to which the health and hygiene rules are followed in the CRC and its facilities, the state of sanitation facilities, heating, lighting and ventilation in the CRC, and the quality and cleanliness of the inmates' clothes and their bed furnishings, he/she does not follow the extent of compliance with the rules related to physical and sports education. The CRC does not have health care guarantees for persons with disabilities.

- Torture and the use of force: The Hebron CRC complies in an excellent manner with international standards for preventing the use of force against inmates and respecting their rights.
- Procedures for receiving detainees/inmates: The Hebron CRC complies well with international standards for procedures for receiving inmates and enabling them to be accommodated in a smooth manner, except with regard to avoiding overcrowding and ensuring a moderate living space for the inmates due to the conditions of the building and the high occupancy rate of the CRC. Not every inmate receives his own bed with his supplies because there were 50 inmates without beds at the time of assessment, but the CRC guarantees a reasonable amount of cleaning the sheets and bed furnishings according to a specific schedule. There is no official uniform for inmates. Inmates with disabilities are also granted a reasonable amount of facilities during their reception, commensurate with the nature of the disability, although there is no policy for that.
- Conditions of detention: The Hebron CRC provides inmates with very good conditions of detention in terms of meals, hours of exposure to the sun, movement, availability of clean water that meets the needs of inmates. Inmates, however, are not distributed based on their ability to coexist, due to the overcrowding of the CRC. The CRC's administration respects the freedom to practice religious rituals and allows inmates to communicate with their families and friends on a regular basis. Also, inmates receive news on a regular basis through daily newspapers and television stations. Sanitation facilities are also provided with cleaning materials so that inmates can clean the facilities by themselves. The CRC staff also monitors inmates (only) in terms of washing and changing their clothes and underwear to ensure their physical cleanliness, and this is not imposed on them. Work is not compulsory at the CRC, but it is a privilege granted to some categories of inmates based on compliance with the required rules of behavior and proper conduct inside the CRC. In the Hebron CRC, convicted inmates are not separated from inmates, and those imprisoned for civil reasons, including for debts, are not separated from those imprisoned for criminal offenses, due to the overcrowding from which the CRC suffers.

- Visitors: The Hebron CRC complies in an excellent manner with international standards for procedures for visits by families and friends of inmates periodically on a pre-agreed basis.
- Infrastructure of inmates' rooms and accommodation facilities: The Hebron CRC complies weakly with international standards for the infrastructure and facilities for inmates' accommodation due to the conditions of the building and the overcrowding it suffers from, where the occupancy rate is 142.9%, and the living space inside the CRC is considered inappropriate according to international standards (the minimum living space for the detained number of inmates is 756 square meters). The rooms are not suitable for the accommodation of inmates in terms of the minimum space allocated to each inmate. There is no single bed assigned for each inmate according to international standards. The rooms are not suitable for the accommodation of inmates with disabilities and the number of toilets and shower facilities is insufficient (in some rooms the number of inmates reaches up to 19 inmates with only one toilet and shower facility in the same place for this number). The toilets are not suitable for the use of persons with disabilities or special needs. Natural and artificial lighting is not sufficiently available in the inmates' accommodation facilities due to the conditions of the building, and thus the ventilation systems are not good inside the CRC's facilities. The CRC suffers from difficult maintenance due to the age of the building and the fact that it was not designed as a CRC in the first place, which constitutes an unsuitable living situation for inmates. In addition, the area of the recreation space is considered to be insufficient for the number of inmates in addition to the lack of adequate infrastructure for the accommodation requirements of inmates with disabilities.

- Service facilities: The Hebron CRC complies weakly with international standards regarding the nature of the quality of service facilities located in it. Although the CRC has three vocational rehabilitation facilities (bakery, shoe workshop, sewing workshop), but they are not operational, and although there is a library that contains 300 books, there are no books specifically for people with disabilities and it is not compatible with the needs of people with disabilities. The infrastructure for service facilities is totally not equipped to meet the needs of persons with disabilities. The medical clinic needs many medical devices that are not available and the windows of service facilities do not allow enough light to enter due to the conditions of the CRC.
- Women's Detention Center: There were no women at the time of assessment
- Juvenile detention center: There were no juveniles at the time of assessment.

Bethlehem CRC

Living space	600 square meters
CRC capacity	62 inmates	Number of inmates at visit time: 80 inmates
Rates of accommodation area occupancy (inmate density)	129%
Building's nature	A very old stone building that was constructed around 1900 and is unsuitable as a CRC as rooms have no windows.	It was turned into a CRC during 2008.
Service units found at the CRC	A general medicine clinic and a dentistry clinic are in the same room. A library. There are no vocational rehabilitation facilities.
Inmate rights	Inside the CRC there are informational posters that display the inmate rights and duties according to the texts of the law.
Suitability of the CRC for receiving people with disabilities, including inmates, visitors and staff.	The CRC is unequipped for receiving people with disabilities, including inmates, visitors and staff.

The assessment team visited the CRC on July 27, 2019. After discussing the assessment tool and monitoring the initial grades for each scope in it, the records described in the assessment methodology were viewed. Then, the assessment team made a field visit to all the CRC's facilities to determine the actual situation of the facilities before the final assessment grade was approved.

The overall total compatibility rate of the Bethlehem CRC with international standards was 2.7, reflecting compliance to a certain degree with international standards for conditions of detention.

The total compatibility rate of the Bethlehem CRC in relation to the total policies standard for the CRC was 1.7, which reflects good compliance with international standards for the policies in place at the Bethlehem CRC. They were distributed as follows:

- The CRC's compatibility rate for the scope of CRC administration provisions was 1.5, which reflects good compliance with international standards. The CRC's compatibility rate with the scope provisions of the CRC staff was 1.8, which reflects good compliance with international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate with the scope provisions of health care guarantees provided to inmates in the CRC was 2.7, which reflects compliance to a certain degree with international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate with the scope provisions of torture and the use of force in CRC was 1.0, which represents full compliance with the scope of torture and the use of force in the CRC.
- The CRC's compliance rate with the scope of procedures for receiving detainees/inmates in CRC was 2.2, which reflects compliance to a certain degree with international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate with the scope of detention conditions in CRC was 1.8, which reflects compliance to a certain degree with international standards..
- - The CRC's compatibility rate with the scope of CRC visitors was 1.0, which reflects full compliance with international standards.
- The overall compatibility rate of the Bethlehem CRC in relation to the total equipment and infrastructure standard of the CRC was 4.0, which reflects weak compliance with international standards. They were distributed as follows:
 - The CRC's compatibility rate for the infrastructure and inmate accommodation facilities provisions in the CRC was 3.9, reflecting weak compliance with international standards.
 - The CRC's compatibility rate for provisions of service facilities in the CRC was 4.1, which reflects weak compliance with international standards.

The overall compatibility rate of the Bethlehem CRC in relation to the total standard for women's detention CRCs was 2.5, reflecting compliance to some degree with international standards.

No juvenile inmates were present at the CRC at the time of the assessment.

Remarks on Assessment Results

- Administration of the CRC: The Bethlehem CRC complies well with international standards for prison administration in terms of having documented policies, directives and instructions about the CRC's administration. The ratio of staff to inmates is appropriate, reaching 53.7%. The CRC suffers from the lack of vocational rehabilitation facilities for inmates and it is not qualified to receive inmates and visitors with disabilities. In addition, there is no policy that limits the number of working hours for inmates, because working in all CRCs is a privilege and is not binding.
- CRC Staff: The Bethlehem CRC complies well with international standards for staff of detention centers, but there is no system or specific standards for incentives and penalties that govern the CRC staff, in addition to the absence of any additional financial compensation compared with the rest of the police members or an allowance for the nature of work. In addition, there are no clear or written criteria for appointing staff in CRCs, and no employees with disabilities have been appointed according to the known percentages.
- Healthcare guarantees for inmates: The Bethlehem CRC guarantees a limited degree of health care guarantees for inmates, especially in light of the lack of a permanent general physician at the CRC (6 days a week for 4 hours a day). The nurse is also non-resident and works 5 days a week (8 hours a day). Dental services are also provided four days a week only. The psychiatrist is available for a period of one day only every week. The general medicine clinic, the dentistry clinic and the pharmacy are located inside one room due to the conditions of the building. The tools necessary to equip the clinics are not available or old and derelict.

The inmate's medical examination is carried out at the Military Medical Services and before his/her arrival to the CRC. Thus, the inmate is not examined upon entering the CRC by the CRC itself, according to international norms in this regard.

- There is no clear policy on appointing a qualified medical specialist, since the medical specialist is appointed by the Military Medical Services, and neither the CRCD nor the police have a part to play in that. Also, there is no room for medical isolation inside the CRC.

Although the medical specialist submits periodic reports to the prison administration about the quantity, quality and preparation of food, the extent to which the health and hygiene rules are followed at the CRC and its facilities, the state of sanitation facilities, heating, lighting and ventilation in the CRC, and the quality and cleanliness of the inmates' clothes and their bed furnishings, he/she does not follow the extent of compliance with the rules related to physical and sports education, given the lack of a place for the exercise of these activities within the CRC. The CRC does not have health care guarantees for persons with disabilities.

- Torture and the use of force: The Bethlehem CRC complies in an excellent manner with international standards for preventing the use of force against inmates and respecting their rights.
- Procedures for receiving detainees/inmates: The Bethlehem CRC complies well with international standards for procedures for receiving inmates and enabling them to be accommodated in a smooth manner, except with regard to avoiding overcrowding and ensuring a moderate living space for the inmates due to the conditions of the building. Not every inmate receives his own bed with his supplies because there were 20 inmates without beds at the time of assessment, but the CRC guarantees a reasonable amount of cleaning the sheets and bed furnishings according to a specific schedule. There is no official uniform for inmates. Inmates with disabilities are also granted a reasonable amount of facilities during their reception, commensurate with the nature of the disability, although there is no policy for that.
- Detention conditions: The Bethlehem CRC provides good detention conditions for inmates in terms of meals, hours of exposure to the sun, movement and the availability of sufficient clean water for the needs of inmates. However, inmates are not distributed on the basis of their ability to coexist due to the overcrowding the CRC is suffering from. The CRC's management respects the freedom to practice religious rituals and allows inmates to communicate with their families and friends regularly. Inmates receive news regularly through daily newspapers and television stations. In addition, cleaning materials are provided for the sanitary facilities which are cleaned by the inmates themselves. The staff of the CRC monitors inmates (only) in terms of washing and changing their clothes and underwear to ensure their physical cleanliness but they don't oblige them to do so. Work is not compulsory in the center, but is a privilege granted to some categories of inmates based on their compliance with the required rules of behavior and good conduct inside the CRC. In Bethlehem CRC, sentenced inmates are not separated from detainees, and those imprisoned for civil reasons, including debts, are not separated from those imprisoned for criminal offenses due to the overcrowding the CRC is suffering from.

- Visitors: Bethlehem CRC complies in an excellent manner with international standards regarding the procedures for visiting inmates by their families and friends on a regular basis agreed upon in advance.
- Infrastructure of inmates' rooms and accommodation facilities: Bethlehem CRC complies in a weak manner with the international standards regarding the infrastructure and inmates' accommodation facilities due to the conditions of the building and its overcrowding with an occupancy rate of 129%. The living space inside the CRC is considered inadequate according to international standards. The rooms are inadequate for the accommodation of inmates in terms of the minimum space per each inmate and there is no single bed for each inmate according to international standards. The rooms are inadequate for the accommodation of inmates with disabilities. The number of toilets and shower facilities is insufficient (in some rooms, the number of inmates is 19, with only one toilet and shower facility in the same place). Toilets are inadequate for the use of persons with disabilities or special needs. Due to the nature of the building, there are no windows in most of the accommodation facilities, which prevents the availability of natural lighting and adequate ventilation. Moreover, the artificial lighting is insufficient due to the conditions of the building. The CRC suffers from the difficulty of maintaining its facilities because the building is old and was not designed as a CRC in the first place, which constitutes an inappropriate living condition for inmates. In addition, the recreational space is insufficient for the number of inmates and the infrastructure doesn't meet the accommodation requirements for inmates with disabilities.

- Services facilities: The Bethlehem CRC does not comply at all with international standards regarding the nature and quality of its service facilities. The service facilities do not have windows to ensure adequate ventilation and provide natural light, which poses a real risk to the health of inmates and staff at the CRC. The CRC does not have facilities for vocational rehabilitation. There is a library but its area is 2 square meters (2 meters X 1 meter) and is inadequate at all (it contains 600 books). The library has no books for persons with disabilities and it's inadequate for their needs. The infrastructure of the service facilities is not equipped to meet the needs of persons with disabilities. The medical clinic needs many medical devices that are not available currently not available there, and the windows of the services facilities do not allow enough light in due to the conditions of the center.
- Women's detention center: The Bethlehem CRC complies to some degree with the international standards for the detention of women with a compliance rate of 2.5. Detained women are placed in separate sections away from men, and the women's section is headed by a female staff member. It is forbidden to search women by male staff members and infants are allowed to stay with their mothers. All women's sanitary items are provided regularly, and pregnant detainees give birth in civilian hospitals. Physical contact between detained mothers and their children is allowed during visits. However, the CRC does not have a women's clinic that is separate from the general medicine clinic, nor is there a female doctor for this purpose. There is no nursery to take care of children accompanying their detained mothers. In addition, there are no vocational training programs for rehabilitating female inmates, building their capacities and filling their time in a good way. There is also weak coordination and networking with civil and community institutions in regards to the rehabilitation of women before their release and training them to take care of themselves after their release. Reception and accommodation facilities are not adequate for the needs of women with disabilities.

- Juvenile detention center: There were no juveniles at the time of the assessment.

The assessment team visited the CRC on July 30, 2019. After discussing the assessment tool and recording the initial grades for each scope, the records outlined in the assessment methodology were viewed. After that, the assessment team conducted a field visit to all of the CRC's facilities to determine the actual situation of the facilities before recording the final assessment grade.

The overall total rate of Jenin CRC's compliance with the international standards is 2.4, reflecting compliance to some degree with the international standards for detention conditions.

The overall total rate of Jenin CRC's compliance in regards to the total rate of the standard of the CRC's policies was 1.7, which reflects a good compliance with international standards regarding the policies followed in Jenin CRC as follows:

- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope provisions related to CRC administration was 1.6, which reflects a good compliance with the international.
- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope provisions related to the CRC staff was 1.8, which reflects compliance to some degree with the international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope provisions related to health care guarantees for inmates in the CRC was 2.4, which reflects compliance to some degree with the international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate for the provisions of the scope related to torture and the use of force in the CRC was 1, which represents a full compliance with the scope related to torture and the use of force in the CRC.
- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope related to the procedures for receiving detainees/inmates in the CRC was 2.4, which reflects a good compliance with the international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope related to detention conditions in the CRC was 1.7, which reflects a good compliance with the international standards. The CRC's compliance rate for the scope related to CRC visitors was 1, which reflects a full compliance with the international standards.

The total rate of Jenin CRC's compliance in regards to the total rate of the standard of equipment and infrastructure of the CRC was 3.4, which reflects a weak compliance with the international standards as follows:

- The CRC's compliance rate for the provisions related to the infrastructure and inmates' accommodation facilities in the CRC was 3.3, reflecting a weak compliance with the international standards.

- The CRC's compliance rate in regards to services facilities in the CRC was 3.4, which reflects compliance to some degree with the international standards.

The total rate of Jenin CRC's compliance in regards to the total rate of the standard of juvenile detention centers was 1.9, which reflects a good compliance with the international standards. The total rate of Jenin CRC's compliance in regards to the total rate of the standard of women's detention centers was 2.4, which reflects compliance to some degree with the international standards.

- Remarks on Assessment Results Administration of the center: The Jenin CRC complies well with the international standards for prison administration in terms of the availability of documented policies, directions and instructions on the administration of the CRC. The ratio of staff to inmates is 43.3% which is an acceptable ratio, especially with the horizontal nature of the prison. There are vocational rehabilitation facilities at the CRC but they are not operational and there is no clear policy on managing and operating them. The CRC is not equipped to receive inmates and visitors with disabilities. In addition, there is no policy that determines the number of inmates' working hours because work in all CRCs is a privilege and not compulsory.
- CRC Staff: The Jenin CRC complies well with the international standards for detention centers' staff. However, there is no system or specific standards for incentives and penalties for the center's staff who are paid the same as the rest of police staff without any additional allowances, nor is there an allowance for the nature of work. In addition, there are no clear or written criteria for appointing staff to the CRCs, and no employees with disabilities have been appointed according to the standard ratios.
- Health care guarantees for inmates: The Jenin CRC provides, to some degree, health care guarantees for inmates, especially in light of the lack of a permanent general physician at the CRC (5 days a week). However, there is a full-time nurse inside the center. Dental services are provided only two days a week and a psychiatrist is available only when needed and through the Military Medical Services. The general medicine clinic, the dental clinic and the pharmacy are located in one room due to the conditions of the building, in addition to the fact that the tools necessary to equip the clinics are either not available or old and worn out.

- The inmates' medical examination is carried out at the Military Medical Services before their arrival to the CRC, and thus inmates are not examined upon their entry into the CRC by the CRC itself according to the international norms in this regard.
- In addition, there is no clear policy on appointing a qualified medical specialist since the medical specialist is appointed by the Military Medical Services, and neither the CRCD nor the police are involved in that. Furthermore, there is no room for medical isolation inside the CRC.

The medical specialist submits periodic reports to the prison administration about the quantity, quality and preparation of food; the extent to which the health and hygiene rules are followed in the CRC and its facilities; inmates' health conditions; the hygiene conditions of the facilities; heating, lighting and ventilation in the CRC and the quality and cleanliness of the inmates' clothes and their bed furnishings. However, the specialist does not follow-up on the extent of compliance with the rules related to sport and physical education because there is no place to practice these activities inside the CRC. Furthermore, there are no health care guarantees in the CRC for people with disabilities.

- Torture and the use of force: The Jenin CRC complies in an excellent manner with the international standards for preventing the use of force against inmates and respecting their rights.
- Procedures for receiving detainees/inmates: The Jenin CRC complies to some degree with the international standards regarding the procedures for receiving inmates and enabling them to be accommodated smoothly. However, the CRC is suffering from overcrowding and the inability to ensure a moderate living space for the inmates due to the conditions of the building. Not every inmate receives his own bed and bed furnishings as there were 35 inmates without beds at the time of the assessment. However, the CRC guarantees, to a reasonable extent, the cleaning of sheets and bed furnishings according to a specific schedule. The CRC does not have a uniform for inmates. Inmates with disabilities are granted a reasonable amount of facilities commensurate with the nature of the disability, despite the fact that there is no policy for that.

- Detention conditions: The Jenin CRC provides good detention conditions for inmates in terms of meals, hours of exposure to the sun, movement and the availability of sufficient clean water for the needs of inmates. However, inmates are not distributed on the basis on their ability to coexist due to the overcrowding the CRC is suffering from. - Visitors: The Jenin CRC complies in an excellent manner with the international standards regarding procedures for visits to inmates by their families and friends on a regular basis that is agreed upon in advance.
- Infrastructure of inmates' rooms and accommodation facilities: The Jenin CRC complies weakly with the international standards regarding the infrastructure and inmates' accommodation facilities due to the conditions of the building and its overcrowding with an occupancy rate of 129%. The rooms are inadequate for the accommodation of inmates in terms of the minimum space per each inmate, and there is no single bed for each inmate according to the international standards. The rooms are inadequate for the accommodation of inmates with disabilities. The number of toilets and shower facilities is insufficient (in some rooms, the number of inmates reaches 14, with only one toilet with shower facility in the same place). Toilets are inadequate for the use of persons with disabilities or special needs. Due to the nature of the building, the windows are not wide enough to let in natural light and allow for adequate ventilation in the building. The CRC suffers from the difficulty of maintaining its facilities due to the nature of the building, which constitutes an inappropriate living condition for inmates. In addition, the recreational space is insufficient for the number of inmates and the infrastructure doesn't meet the accommodation requirements for inmates with disabilities.

- Service facilities: The Jenin CRC complies in a weakly with international standards due to the nature and quality of its service facilities. In the service facilities, the windows are not wide enough to let in natural light and allow for the ventilation of the facilities, which poses a real risk to the health of inmates and staff at the CRC. There are a number of facilities for vocational rehabilitation, but they are not operational. There is a library, but it has no books for persons with disabilities and is inadequate for their needs. The infrastructure of all of the service facilities is not equipped to meet the needs of persons with disabilities. The medical devices in the medical clinic need maintenance in addition to the need for some necessary medical devices that are not available there.
- Juvenile detention center: The Jenin CRC complies well with the international standards for juvenile detention. Detained juveniles are placed away from adults in separate sections. Records of juvenile delinquents are kept in complete confidentiality and are not available for others. Juveniles receive social, educational, professional and psychological care and protection. In addition, there are clear policies for fostering juveniles' bonds with their families. However, there is no sufficient coordination with local educational institutions to follow up on the education of detained juveniles, and there are no special programs for integrating the juveniles with disabilities into the society after their release. In addition, the infrastructure and the reception and accommodation facilities for juveniles with disabilities are not suitable for their needs.

- Women's detention center: The Jenin CRC complies to some degree with the international standards for the detention of women with a compliance rate of 2.4. Detained women are placed in separate sections away from men, and the women's section is headed by a responsible female. It is forbidden to search women by male employees, and infants are allowed to stay with their mothers. All women's sanitary items are provided regularly, and pregnant detainees give birth at civilian hospitals. Physical contact between detained mothers and their children is allowed during visits. However, the CRC does not have women's clinic that is separate from the general medicine clinic, nor is there a female doctor for this purpose. The total rate of Ramallah CRC's compliance in regards to the total rate of the standard of equipment and infrastructure of the CRC was 3.4, which reflects a weak compliance with the international standards as follows:

- The CRC's compliance rate for the provisions related to the infrastructure and inmates' accommodation facilities in the CRC was 3.5, reflecting a weak compliance with the international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate in regards to services facilities in the CRC was 3.2, which reflects a weak compliance with the international standards.

The total rate of Ramallah CRC's compliance in regards to the total rate of the standard of women's detention centers was 2.4, which reflects compliance to some degree with the international standards.

It should be noted that there were no juvenile inmates at the CRC at the time of the assessment.

Remarks on the assessment results:

- Administration of the CRC: The Ramallah CRC complies well with the international standards for prison administration in terms of the availability of documented policies, directions and instructions on the CRC's administration. However, the ratio of staff to inmates is only 30.6% which is a low ratio, especially in light of the conditions of the building. There are vocational rehabilitation facilities in the CRC but they are not operational and there is no clear policy on managing and operating them. The CRC is not equipped to receive inmates and visitors with disabilities. In addition, there is no policy that determines the number of inmates' working hours because work in all CRCs is a privilege and not compulsory.
- Center's staff: The Ramallah CRC complies well with the international standards for the staff of detention centers. However, there is no system or specific standards for incentives and penalties for the CRC's staff who are paid the same as the rest of police staff without any additional allowances, nor is there an allowance for the nature of work. In addition, there are no clear or written criteria for appointing staff to the CRCs, and no employees with disabilities have been appointed according to the known percentages.

- Health care guarantees for inmates: The Ramallah CRC provides, to some degree, health care guarantees for inmates, especially in light of the lack of a permanent general physician at the CRC (5 days a week). However, there is a full-time nurse residing at the CRC. Dental services are provided only two days a week, and a psychologist is available only when needed and through the Military Medical Services. There is no separate place for the pharmacy, which is just a cabinet in the general physician's room due to the conditions of the building. In addition, the tools necessary to equip the clinics are either not available or old and worn out.
- The inmates' medical examination is carried out at the Military Medical Services before their arrival to the center, and thus inmates are not examined upon their entry into the CRC by the CRC itself according to international norms in this regard.
- In addition, there is no clear policy on appointing a qualified medical specialist, since the medical specialist is appointed by the Military Medical Services, and neither the CRCD nor the police are involved in that. Furthermore, there is no room for medical isolation inside the center.

However, the specialist does not follow-up on the extent of compliance with the rules related to sport and physical education because there is no place to practice these activities inside the CRC. Furthermore, there are no health care guarantees in the CRC for people with disabilities.

- Torture and the use of force: The Ramallah CRC complies in an excellent manner with the international standards.
- Procedures for receiving detainees/inmates: The Ramallah CRC complies well with the international standards regarding the procedures for receiving inmates and enabling them to be accommodated smoothly, except with regards to avoiding overcrowding and ensuring a moderate living space for the inmates due to the conditions of the building and the high occupancy rate at the CRC. The inmates do not receive written instructions and information about their rights and about the procedures and policies of the CRC but rather they are informed of them orally. Not every inmate receives his own bed and bed furnishings as there were 50 inmates without beds at the time of the assessment. However, the CRC guarantees, to a reasonable degree, the cleaning of sheets and bed furnishings according to a specific schedule. The CRC does not have a uniform for inmates. Inmates with disabilities are granted a reasonable amount of facilities commensurate with the nature of the disability, but there is no policy for that.

- Detention conditions: The Ramallah CRC provides good detention conditions for inmates in terms of meals, hours of exposure to the sun, movement and the availability of sufficient clean water for the needs of inmates. However, inmates are not distributed on the basis of their ability to coexist due to the overcrowding the CRC is suffering from. The CRC's administration respects the freedom to practice religious rituals and allows inmates to communicate with their families and friends regularly. Inmates receive news regularly through daily newspapers and television stations. In addition, cleaning materials are provided for the sanitary facilities which are cleaned by the inmates themselves. The staff of the CRC monitors inmates (only) in terms of washing and changing their clothes and underwear to ensure their physical cleanliness but they don't oblige them to do so. Work is not compulsory in the center, but it is a privilege granted to some categories of inmates based on compliance with the required rules of behavior and good conduct within the CRC. In the Ramallah CRC, sentenced inmates are not separated from detainees, however, those imprisoned for civil reasons, including debts, are separated from those imprisoned for criminal offenses.
- Visitors: The Ramallah CRC complies in an excellent manner with the international standards regarding the procedures for visiting inmates by their families and friends regularly on a pre-agreed basis.

- Infrastructure of inmates' rooms and accommodation facilities: The Ramallah CRC complies weakly with the international standards regarding the infrastructure and inmates' accommodation facilities due to the conditions of the building and its overcrowding with an occupancy rate of 139%. The living space in the CRC is inadequate according to international standards (the minimum living space according to the international standards is 1,426 square meters). Moreover, the rooms are inadequate for the accommodation of inmates in terms of the minimum space per each inmate, and there is no single bed for each inmate according to international standards. The rooms are unsuitable for the accommodation of inmates with disabilities. The number of toilets and shower facilities is insufficient (in some rooms, the number of inmates reaches 19, with only one toilet with a shower facility in the same place for this number). Toilets are unsuitable for the use of persons with disabilities or special needs. Due to the nature of the building, the windows are not wide enough to let in natural light and allow for adequate ventilation in the building. The CRC suffers from the difficulty of maintaining its facilities due to the nature of the building, which constitutes an unsuitable living condition for inmates. In addition, the recreational space is insufficient for the number of inmates and the infrastructure doesn't meet the accommodation requirements for inmates with disabilities.
- Services facilities: Ramallah CRC complies weakly with the international standards due to the nature and quality of its services facilities. In the service facilities, the windows are not wide enough to let in natural light and allow for ventilation of the facilities, which poses a real risk to the health of inmates and staff at the CRC. There are few facilities for vocational rehabilitation but they are not operational. There is a library (containing about 300 books) but it has no books for persons with disabilities and it is inadequate for their needs. The infrastructure of all of the service facilities is not equipped to meet the needs of persons with disabilities. The medical devices in the medical clinic (such as the ECG device) need maintenance in addition to the need to provide some necessary medical devices that are not available in the clinic.
- Women's detention center: The Ramallah CRC complies to some degree with the international standards for the detention of women with a compliance rate of 2.4. Detained women are placed in separate sections away from men, and the women's section is headed by a female staff member. It is forbidden to search women by male employees, and infants are allowed to stay with their mothers. All women's sanitary items are provided regularly, and pregnant detainees give birth in civilian hospitals. Physical contact between detained mothers and their children is allowed during visits. However, the CRC does not have a women's clinic that is separate from the general medicine clinic, nor is there a female doctor for this purpose. There is no nursery to take care of children accompanying their detained mothers. In addition, vocational training programs for female inmates, if any, are limited to traditional women's professions. There is also weak coordination and networking with civil and community institutions for the rehabilitation of women before their release and training them to take care of themselves after their release. Reception and accommodation facilities are not adequate for the needs of women with disabilities.

- Juvenile detention center: There were no juveniles at the time of the assessment.

Building's nature	An old building that is unsuitable to serve as a CRC.	It was opened for operation as a CRC in 2009.
Service units found at the CRC	General medicine room, dental room, library, classroom, vocational training units: handicrafts, bakery, barbershop	Vocational training workshops are not utilized
Inmates' rights	Inside the center, there are information posters displaying the rights and duties of inmates according to the provisions of the law. Some of these information posters were provided by the ICHR.
Suitability of the CRC to receive inmates, visitors and employees with disabilities	The CRC is not suitable to receive inmates, visitors and employees with disabilities

The assessment team visited the CRC on July 27, 2019. After discussing the assessment tool and recording the initial grades for each scope, the records outlined in the assessment methodology were viewed. After that, the assessment team conducted a field visit to all of the CRC's facilities to determine the actual situation of the facilities before recording the final assessment score.

The total rate of Tulkarem CRC's compliance with international standards is 2.5, reflecting compliance to some degree with the international standards.

The overall total rate of Tulkarem CRC's compliance in regards to the total rate of the standard of the CRC's policies was 1.7, which reflects good compliance with the international standards as follows:

- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope provisions related to CRC administration was 1.6, which reflects a good compliance with the international standards. The CRC's compliance rate for the scope provisions related to the staff of the CRC was 1.8, which reflects a good compliance with the international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope provisions related to health care guarantees for inmates in the CRC was 2.3, which reflects compliance to some degree with the international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope provisions related to torture and the use of force in the CRC was 1, which represents a full compliance with the scope related to torture and the use of force in the CRC.
- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope related to the procedures for receiving detainees/inmates at the CRC was 2.5, which reflects compliance to some degree with the international standards. The CRC's compliance rate for the scope related to detention conditions in the CRC was 1.9, which reflects a good compliance with the international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope related to CRC visitors was 1, which reflects a full compliance with the international standards.

The total rate of Tulkarem CRC's compliance in regards to the total rate of the standard of equipment and infrastructure of the CRC was 3.3, which reflects a weak compliance with the international standards CRC as follows:

- The CRC's compliance rate for the provisions related to the infrastructure and inmates' accommodation facilities in the CRC was 3.3, reflecting a weak compliance with the international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate in regards to service facilities in the CRC was 3.2, which reflects a weak compliance with the international standards. It should be noted that there were no juvenile or women inmates at the CRC at the time of the assessment.

Remarks on the assessment results:

- Administration of the CRC: The Tulkarem CRC complies well with the international standards for prison administration in terms of the availability of documented policies, directions and instructions on the administration of the CRC. The ratio of staff to inmates is only 51.7% which is a good ratio in light of the conditions of the building. There are some vocational rehabilitation facilities in the CRC but they are not operational and there is no clear policy on managing and operating them. The CRC is not equipped to receive inmates and visitors with disabilities. In addition, there is no policy that determines the number of inmates' working hours because work in all CRCs is a privilege and not compulsory.
- CRC's staff: The Tulkarem CRC complies well with the international standards for staff of detention centers. However, there is no system or specific standards for incentives and penalties for the CRC's staff who are paid the same as the rest of police staff without any additional allowances, nor is there an allowance for the nature of work. In addition, there are no clear or written criteria for appointing staff to the CRCs, and no employees with disabilities have been appointed according to the known percentages.
- Health care guarantees for inmates: The Tulkarem CRC provides, to some degree, health care guarantees for inmates, especially in light of the lack of a permanent general physician at the CRC (5 days a week). However, there is a full-time nurse residing at the center. Dental services are provided only once a week. A psychologist is available only when needed and through the Military Medical Services. In addition, the tools necessary to equip the clinics are either not available or old and worn out.
- The inmates' medical examination is carried out at the Military Medical Services before their arrival to the CRC, and thus inmates are not examined upon their entry by the CRC itself according to the international norms in this regard.
- In addition, there is no clear policy on appointing a qualified medical specialist, since the medical specialist is appointed by the Military

Medical Services, and neither the CRCD nor the police are involved in that. Furthermore, there is no room for medical isolation inside the center.

The medical specialist submits periodic reports to the prison's administration about the quantity, quality and preparation of food; the extent to which the health and hygiene rules are followed in the CRC and its facilities; inmates' health conditions; the hygiene conditions of the facilities; heating, lighting and ventilation in the CRC and the quality and cleanliness of the inmates' clothes and their bed furnishings. However, the specialist does not submit an assessment report to the CRC's administration on the detention conditions in the CRC and their impact on inmates' health nor does he follow-up on the extent of compliance with the rules related to sport and physical education because there is no place to practice these activities inside the center. Furthermore, there are no health care guarantees in the CRC for people with disabilities.

- Torture and the use of force: The Tulkarem CRC complies in an excellent manner with international standards for preventing the use of force against inmates and respecting their rights.
- Procedures for receiving detainees/inmates: The Tulkarem CRC complies to some degree with the international standards regarding the procedures for receiving inmates and enabling them to be accommodated smoothly, except with regards to avoiding overcrowding and ensuring a moderate living space for the inmates due to the conditions of the building and the high occupancy rate at the CRC. Inmates do not receive written instructions and information about their rights and about the procedures and policies of the CRC but rather they are informed of them verbally. Not every inmate receives his own bed and bed furnishings as there were 27 inmates without beds at the time of the assessment. However, the CRC guarantees, to a reasonable extent, the cleaning of sheets and bed furnishings according to a specific schedule. The CRC does not have a uniform for inmates. Inmates with disabilities are granted a reasonable amount of facilities commensurate with the nature of the disability, but there is no policy for that.
- Detention conditions: The Tulkarem CRC provides good detention conditions for inmates in terms of meals, hours of exposure to the sun, movement and the availability of sufficient clean water for the needs of inmates. However, inmates are not distributed on the basis of their ability to coexist due to the overcrowding the CRC is suffering from. The CRC's administration respects the freedom to practice religious rituals and allows inmates to communicate with their families and friends regularly. Inmates receive news regularly through daily newspapers and television stations. In addition, cleaning materials are provided for the sanitary facilities which are cleaned by the inmates themselves. The staff of the CRC monitors inmates (only) in terms of washing and changing their clothes and underwear to ensure their physical cleanliness but they don't oblige them to do so. Work is not compulsory in the center, but it is a privilege granted to some categories of inmates based on compliance with the required rules of behavior and good conduct inside the CRC. In the Tulkarem CRC, sentenced inmates are not separated from detainees, and those imprisoned for civil reasons, including debts, are not separated from those imprisoned for criminal offenses due to the overcrowding the CRC is suffering from.

- Visitors: The Tulkarem CRC complies in an excellent manner with the international standards regarding the procedures for visits to inmates by their families and friends regularly on a pre-agreed basis.
- Infrastructure of inmates' rooms and accommodation facilities: The Tulkarem CRC complies in weakly with the international standards regarding the infrastructure and inmates' accommodation facilities due to the conditions of the building and its overcrowding with an occupancy rate of 146.5%. The rooms are inadequate for the accommodation of inmates in terms of the minimum space per each inmate, and there is no single bed for each inmate according to international standards. The rooms are inadequate for the accommodation of inmates with disabilities. The number of toilets and shower facilities is insufficient (in some rooms, the number of inmates reaches 17, with only one toilet with a shower facility in the same place for this number). Toilets are unsuitable for the use of persons with disabilities or special needs. Due to the nature of the building, the windows are not wide enough to let in natural light and allow for adequate ventilation of the building. The CRC suffers from the difficulty of maintaining its facilities due to the nature of the building, which constitutes inadequate living conditions for inmates. In addition, the recreational space is insufficient for the number of inmates and the infrastructure doesn't meet the accommodation requirements for inmates with disabilities.

- Service facilities: The Tulkarem CRC complies weakly with the international standards due to the nature and quality of its services facilities. In the services facilities, the windows are not wide enough to let in natural light and allow for ventilation of the facilities, which poses a real risk to the health of inmates and staff at the center. There are facilities for vocational rehabilitation but they are not operational. In addition, there is a library but it has no books for persons with disabilities and it is inadequate for their needs. The infrastructure of all of the service facilities is not equipped to meet the needs of persons with disabilities. The medical devices in the medical clinic need maintenance in addition to the need to provide some necessary medical devices that are not available at the clinic.
- Juvenile detention center: There were no juveniles at the time of the assessment.
- Women's detention center: There were no women inmates at the time of the assessment.

Suitability of the CRC to receive inmates, visitors and staff with disabilities	The CRC is not suitability to receive inmates, visitors and staff with disabilities.

The assessment team visited the CRC on August 4, 2019. After discussing the assessment tool and recording the initial grades for each scope, the records outlined in the assessment methodology were viewed. After that, the assessment team conducted a field visit to all of the CRC's facilities to determine the actual situation of the facilities before recording the final assessment score.

The total rate of the Nablus CRC's compliance with the international standards is 2.8, reflecting compliance to some degree with the international standards for detention conditions.

The total rate of Nablus CRC's compliance in regards to the total rate of the standard of the CRC's policies was 1.8, which reflects a good compliance with the international standards as follows:

- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope provisions related to CRC administration was 1.8, which reflects a good compliance with the international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope provisions related to the CRC staff was 1.8, which reflects a good compliance with the international standards. The CRC's compliance rate for the scope provisions related to health care guarantees for inmates in the CRC was 2.3, which reflects compliance to some degree with the international standards. The CRC's compliance rate for the scope provisions related to torture and the use of force in the CRC was 1, which represents a full compliance in the scope related to torture and the use of force in the CRC.
- The CRC's compliance rate for the scope related to the procedures for receiving detainees/inmates into the CRC was 2.7, which reflects compliance to some degree with the international standards. The CRC's compliance rate for the scope related to detention conditions in the CRC was 1.7, which reflects a good compliance with the international standards. The CRC's compliance rate for the scope related to CRC visitors was 1, which reflects a full compliance with the international standards.

The total rate of the Nablus CRC's compliance in regards to the total rate of the standard of equipment and infrastructure of the CRC was 3.7, which reflects a weak compliance with the international standards as follows:

- The CRC's compliance rate for the provisions related to the infrastructure and inmates' accommodation facilities in the CRC was 3.8, reflecting a weak compliance with the international standards.
- The CRC's compliance rate in regards to services facilities in the CRC was 3.7, which reflects a weak compliance with the international standards.

The total rate of the Nablus CRC's compliance in regards to the total rate of the standard of the juvenile detention center was 2.9, which reflects a weak compliance with the international standards.

It should be noted that there were no women inmates at the CRC at the time of the assessment.

Remarks on the assessment results:

- CRC's Administration: The Nablus CRC complies well with the international standards for prison management in terms of the availability of documented policies, directions and instructions on the CRC's administration. However, the ratio of staff to inmates is 30%, which is a low ratio, especially in light of the overcrowding in the prison. There is no room for meetings with inmates' attorneys. There are vocational rehabilitation facilities in the CRC but they are not operational and there is no clear policy on managing and operating them. The CRC is not equipped to receive inmates and visitors with disabilities. In addition, there is a policy that determines the number of inmates' working hours but it's not used because work in all CRCs is a privilege and not compulsory.
- CRC's staff: The Nablus CRC complies well with the international standards for staff of detention centers. However, there is no system or specific standards for incentives and penalties for the CRC's staff who are paid the same as the rest of police staff without any additional allowances, nor is there an allowance for the nature of work. In addition, there are no clear or written criteria for appointing staff to the CRCs, and no employees with disabilities have been appointed according to the known percentages.

- Health care guarantees for inmates: The Nablus CRC provides, to some degree, health care guarantees for inmates, especially in light of the lack of a permanent general physician at the CRC (5 days a week until 02:00 pm). However, there is a full-time resident nurse at the CRC. Dental services are provided three days a week in a room separate from the general medicine room. However, the tools necessary to equip the clinics are either not available or old and worn out. A psychologist is available only when needed and through the Military Medical Services. The inmates' medical examination is carried out at the Military Medical Services before their arrival to the CRC, and thus inmates are not examined upon their entry by the CRC itself according to the international norms in this regard.

The medical specialist submits periodic reports to the prison's administration about the quantity, quality and preparation of food; the extent to which the health and hygiene rules are followed in the CRC and its facilities; inmates' health conditions; the hygiene conditions of the facilities; heating, lighting and ventilation in the CRC and the quality and cleanliness of the inmates' clothes and their beddings. However, the specialist does not follow-up on the extent of compliance with the rules related to sport and physical education because there is no place to practice these activities inside the CRC. Furthermore, there are no health care guarantees in the CRC for people with disabilities.

- Torture and the use of force: The Nablus CRC complies in an excellent manner with international standards for preventing the use of force against inmates and respecting their rights.
- Procedures for receiving detainees/inmates: The Nablus CRC complies to some degree with the international standards regarding the procedures for receiving inmates and enabling them to be accommodated smoothly. However, the CRC is suffering from the overcrowding and the inability to provide a moderate living space for the inmates due to the conditions of the building. Not every inmate receives his own bed and bed furnishings as there were 70 inmates without beds at the time of the assessment. However, the CRC guarantees, to a reasonable extent, the cleaning of sheets and beddings according to a specific schedule. The CRC does not have a uniform for inmates. Inmates with disabilities are granted a reasonable amount of facilities commensurate with the nature of the disability, but there is no policy for that.

- Detention conditions: The Nablus CRC provides good detention conditions for inmates in terms of meals, hours of exposure to the sun, movement and the availability of sufficient clean water for the needs of inmates. However, inmates are not distributed on the basis of their ability to coexist due to the overcrowding the CRC is suffering from. The CRC's management respects the freedom to practice religious rituals and allows inmates to communicate with their families and friends regularly. Inmates receive news regularly through daily newspapers and television stations. In addition, cleaning materials are provided for the sanitary facilities which are cleaned by the inmates themselves. The staff of the CRC monitors inmates (only) in terms of washing and changing their clothes and underwear to ensure their physical cleanliness but they don't oblige them to do so. Work is not compulsory in the center, but it is a privilege granted to some categories of inmates based on compliance with the required rules of behavior and good conduct inside the center. In the Nablus CRC, sentenced inmates are not separated from detainees, however, those imprisoned for civil reasons, including debts, are partially separated from those imprisoned for criminal offenses according to the conditions of the building.
- Visitors: The Nablus CRC complies in an excellent manner with the international standards regarding procedures for visits to inmates by their families and friends regularly on a pre-agreed basis.
- Infrastructure of inmates' rooms accommodation and facilities: The Nablus CRC is very poorly compliant with international standards in terms of infrastructure and facilities for inmates. The building has a poor physical condition and is overcrowded. The occupancy rate is 158.7%, which is one of the highest rates in Palestinian CRCs. The living space in the prison is considered inadequate (the suitable living area according to international standards is 1,080 square meters, which is approximately one third of the available area today). The rooms are not suitable for accommodating inmates in terms of the minimum space allocated to each inmate. In addition, there is no single bed for each inmate as provided for in international standards, and the rooms are not suitable for accommodating inmates with disabilities. At the same time, the number of toilets and shower facilities is insufficient. (In some rooms, the number of inmates reaches up to more than 19, with only one toilet and shower facility). Moreover, the toilets are not suitable for the use of persons with disabilities or special needs. Due to the nature of the building, the windows in the inmates' rooms and facilities are covered by metal guard (protection) (due to the CRC's presence within a residential area and opposite the court complex), which does not allow natural light and proper ventilation and exposes inmates to diseases. The CRC suffers from difficulty in maintenance work due to the nature of the building, which constitutes an unsuitable living condition for inmates. The recreational space is insufficient for the numbers of inmates. In addition, the infrastructure is unsuitable for the requirements of disabled inmates' accommodation.

- Service facilities: The Nablus CRC complies very weakly with international standards due to the nature and quality of the service facilities in it. Because of the nature of the building, the windows in the service facilities are covered by metal guards (protection) (due to the CRC's presence inside a residential area and opposite the court complex) or are small in size, which does not allow natural light and proper ventilation. As a result, this poses a real health risk to the inmates and staff at the CRC. Also, unlike other CRCs, there is no library in the Nablus CRC. Although there are a number of vocational rehabilitation facilities, however, they are not operational. Although there is a library, there are no books dedicated to persons with disabilities and it is not compatible with the needs of persons with disabilities. The medical clinic needs a replacement of the medical equipment found in it due to their derelict state. Also, it needs to provide some necessary medical equipment that it lacks.
- Juvenile detention center: To some degree, the Nablus CRC complies international standards for the detention of juveniles. Although delinquent detained juveniles are separated from adults in separate sections and their files are kept confidential; although juveniles receive special treatment including social protection and educational and vocational services, as well as psychological counseling. There are clear policies for enhancing the ties of juveniles with their families. their accommodation rooms are insecure due to the nature of the building. In addition, there are no times for sports education and recreation, during the period allocated for exercises, for juvenile inmates and others who are allowed by their age and health condition, and the tools that juveniles need for sports and entertainment are not available. there is coordination with local educational institutions to follow up on the education of detained juveniles in an inadequate manner, and special programs are not available to integrate juveniles with a disability into society after their release. In addition, the infrastructure and reception facilities and accommodation for disabled juveniles are not compatible with their needs.

- Women's detention center: There were no detained females at the Nablus CRC.

Recommendations

CRCs Administration

- The need to increase the number of staff commensurate with the number of inmates.
- The need to provide accommodations for the director of the center throughout the week

CRCs Staff

- The necessity to create a system or specific criteria for incentives and penalties that govern the staff of the CRCs
- The necessity to grant the CRCs staff a “nature of work allowance”
- The necessity to set clear written criteria for the employment of CRCs staff
- The necessity to establish a firm and documented penalties system to hold the violators of the policies and rules of CRC.

Health care guarantees for inmates:

- The necessity to establish a women clinic for female inmates with a specialized female gynecologist.
- The necessity to make dental care available throughout the week through a full-time dentist and a dental clinic.
- The necessity to set a clear policy on the appointment of a qualified medical specialist.

- The necessity to provide psychological care through specialists who visit the CRC for adequate time specially in light of the overcrowding of the CRCs.
- The need to provide a medical isolation room in the CRCs.
- The need to establish a medical laboratory in the CRCs.
- The necessity to provide adequate cadre of doctors and nurses to work round the clock
- The need to follow up the medical procedures on inmates and request of a detailed medical report before bringing them back to the CRC in case they were referred to a medical center outside the CRC.

Detention conditions:

- The necessity to set a policy to separate the unsentenced inmates from the sentenced ones.
- The necessity to address the issue of the severe overcrowding of some CRCs.

Infrastructure of inmates' rooms accommodation and facilities:

- The need to allocate a single bed with clean bed furnishings for each inmate, whereas some of the inmates have to sleep on the floor.
- the need to provide a uniform for the inmates in the CRCs.
- the need to provide a recreational space for adequate movement and sun and air exposure.
- the need to distribute the inmates on the CRC blocks according to their ability to coexist.
- the need to provide wide windows that allow natural light that enable the inmates to read and allow clean air to the room and regenerate it daily.

Service facilities:

- The need to provide toilets for persons with disabilities
- The need to provide the requirements of persons with disabilities whether they were CRC staff, inmates or visitors.
- The need to provide shower and toilets facilities suitable for the use of the persons with disabilities.
- The need to provide a kitchen.

Rehabilitation: The need to set a policy that determines working hours as working in CRCs is privilege and non-binding.

- The need to provide vocational rehabilitation facilities. (handicrafts, bakery, barbershop (
- The need to provide trainers for the education and vocational training programs.
- The need to coordinate and network with CSOs to rehabilitate women before their release and train them on how to take care of their selves after their release.
- The need to provide training opportunities in non-traditional professions.
- The need to provide a library with an adequate resources.

Juvenile detention center

- the need to coordinate with local educational institutions to follow up the education of the detained juveniles as they are not sufficiently educated in the CRCs.

Women detention centers:

- The need to provide female trainers for the education and vocational training programs.
- The need to coordinate and network with CSOs to rehabilitate women before their release and train them on how to take care of their selves after their release.

- The necessity to establish a women clinic for the female inmates with a specialized female gynecologist.
